RETHINKING LAND ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Saturday, April 20 | 1:00 p.m.

With the rise in popularity of land acknowledgements, Indigenous artist Steph Littlebird asks us to reexamine this trend and go beyond the statement. What comes after we acknowledge the land and its Native stewards? How can individuals and institutions contribute to lasting changes and be true allies for Indigenous communities? Learn more about Oregon Native history, contemporary Indigenous identities, how to look critically at land acknowledgements, and move beyond words toward action.

Family Day

OCEAN ADVENTURES

Sunday, April 21 | 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Bring the whole family and dive under the waves to discover Oregon's amazing marine life! With hands-on activities about ocean environments and the animals that call them home, Ocean Adventure Family Day is perfect for ages three and up. Explore the museum, learn about ocean ecosystems, and enjoy the snacks! Activities are bilingual Spanish/English.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

EARTH DAY CELEBRATION

Monday, April 22 | 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Special Monday hours!

Enjoy free admission in honor of Earth Day.

On Earth Day, we celebrate Earth's ecosystems, honor the achievements of the environmental movement, and recognize the importance of ongoing stewardship. Join us for an afternoon of special Walk & Talks, plus celebratory cupcakes! Walk & Talks begin at noon, 1:00, and 2:00 p.m.

Stop by the museum store and pick up a signed copy of MNCH director Todd Braje's newly released book, Understanding Imperiled Earth.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

MEET AN ARCHAEOLOGIST

Thursday, May 9 | 5:30 to 7:00 p.m.

Have you wondered what it is like to be an archaeologist? Drop in any time between 5:30 and 7:00 p.m. to chat with MNCH archaeologists Todd Braje, Scott Fitzpatrick, and Katelyn McDonough. Get a book signed, learn about their research, see artifacts, and discover how learning about the past can help us understand the present.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

PALEONTOLOGY AT MNCH

Thursday, May 16 | 2:00 to 4:00 p.m.

Meet students working in the museum's paleontology lab, see the fossils they are working on, and learn about their student research projects. Join the flock! Instead of admission, make a donation to support student employees and interns working in the fossil collections as part of the museum's Ducks Give campaign.

Free admission all day.

FROM THE FREEDOM RIDES TO SEATTLE'S BLACK STUDENT UNION: CONNECTING THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST TO THE LARGER BLACK FREEDOM STRUGGLE

Thursday, May 23 | 6:00 to 7:30 p.m.

In 1968, the Black Student Union (BSU) at the University of Washington led a pivotal campaign for institutional reform. Join historian Marc Robinson as he uncovers the connections between the BSU in Seattle—especially its Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee—and the Civil Rights Movement in the South.

Book signing to follow the presentation.
Books will be available for purchase.

Marc Robinson is an assistant professor at California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) and author of Washington State Rising: Black Power on Campus in the Pacific Northwest.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.
