MEMBER CHATS: GO BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE MUSEUM!

Anthropological Collections

Monday, January 30 | 2:00 to 3:00 p.m.

Join Pamela Endzweig, director of anthropological collections, for an up-close experience with collection highlights.

The Condon Fossil Collection

Thursday, February 16 | 10:00 to 11:00 a.m.

Dig into Oregon's fossil story with Edward Davis, director of paleontological collections, for a behind the scenes tour of the paleontological archive.

Archaeology Deep Dive

Tuesday, March 14 | 4:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Interested in the museum's current archaeological activities? Join archaeologists Jon Krier, Marlene Jampolsky, and Brian Lane, for an interactive object study of items from their recent excavations.

These in-person member chats are free and for members only. Preregistration is required and space is limited. Check your Membership Matters email to RSVP for the event, or contact Ruth Hyde at rhyde@uoregon.edu.

Outliers and Outlaws THURSDAY NIGHT TALKS

WORLD-MAKING: EUGENE'S LESBIAN ARTS & CULTURE SCENE

Thursday, February 2 | 6:00 p.m.

Discover Eugene's unique lesbian arts and culture scene from the 1970s–1990s. Hear how Eugene lesbian artists built a world of art, song, theater, and dance, and how they experienced art as an outlet for self-expression, community building, and political protest.

ALTERNATIVE ECONOMIES: EUGENE'S LESBIAN COLLECTIVES

Thursday, March 9 | 6:00 p.m.

For decades, lesbians in Eugene enriched the city with innovative and successful collective businesses. Come hear narrators from the Eugene Lesbian Oral History Project reflect on how they created an alternative to capitalist, male-dominated social and economic systems.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

THURSDAY NIGHT TALK

RODENTS, DYNAMIC LANDSCAPES, AND EVOLUTION

30 MILLION YEARS OF CHANGE

Thursday, February 16 | 6:00 p.m.

Species diversity is greater in regions that are more geographically complex—but why? A panel of biologists, geomorphologists, and paleontologists discuss how mountain-building and climatic history has influenced the evolution and diversity of rodents in western North America over the last 30 million years.

Moderator:

Paleontologist Edward Davis

Panelists:

Geomorphologist Rebecca Dorsey

Biologist Greer Dolby

Paleontologist Samantha Hopkins

Geomorphologist Brian Yanites

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

DARWIN DAY IS FEBRUARY 12!

Come explore the evolution of Oregon in February
as we celebrate
Charles Darwin's birthday.

FAMILY DAY AMAZING ANIMALS

Saturday, February 18
10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Discover the amazing diversity of Oregon's animals! Explore the world through the eyes, ears, and wings of the animal kingdom and learn about the adaptations that make each animal unique. Enjoy snacks and family-friendly science activities throughout the museum. Activities are bilingual Spanish/English.

A drop-in event, Family Day is perfect for children ages three and up with an accompanying adult.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

THE UKRAINIAN ART OF PYSANKA

with Kristine Mushkevych

Sunday, March 5 | 1:00 to 2:30 p.m.

Learn about the history, symbolism, and process of creating pysanka—Ukrainian decorated Easter eggs—and get a chance to see pysanka up close. Pysanka is one of the most recognizable Ukrainian folk-art forms and an indispensable element of Easter celebration in Ukraine.

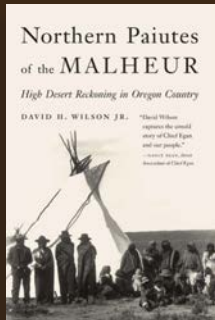

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders.
Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.

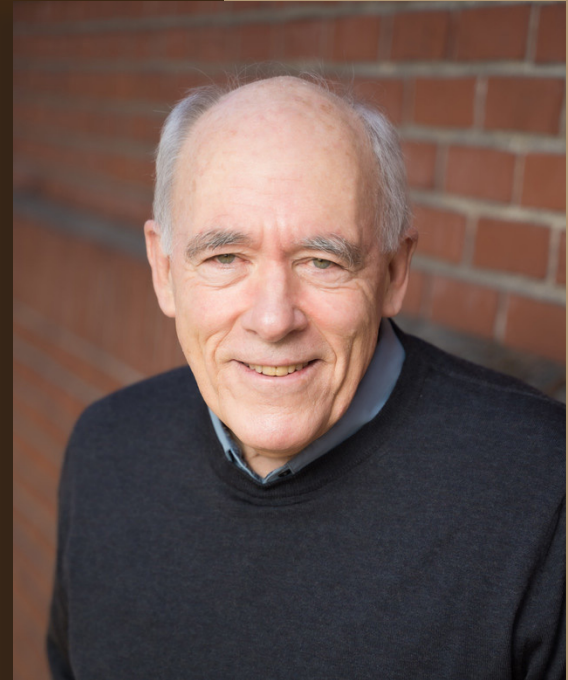

THURSDAY NIGHT TALK AND BOOK SIGNING NORTHERN PAIUTES OF THE MALHEUR— HIGH DESERT RECKONING IN OREGON COUNTRY

Thursday, March 16 | 6:00 p.m.

Following the 1878 Bannock War, the U.S. government stripped Paiutes of their ancestral lands and reservation. For more than a century, a false narrative has blamed Paiute Chief Egan for inciting the war. Join author David Wilson as he reveals government officials' misinformation campaign blaming the Paiutes for the injustices they suffered at the hands of these men.

Book signing to follow the talk. Copies of Northern Paiutes of the Malheur—High Desert Reckoning in Oregon Country will be available in the museum store.

Included with regular admission; free for MNCH members and UO ID card holders. Show your Oregon Trail or other EBT card for an admission discount.
